BIO

As a pale, freckle-faced, redhead born and raised in urban New Jersey, Chris Johnston has never been a stranger to anxiety or confusion. Now in his early thirties, he uses comedy as his crutch to poke fun at the misunderstood world around him. Chris electrifies the stage with a charismatic delivery of opinions on everyday life and unique stories regarding his struggles of fitting in to society. He shares creative personal views of daily routines, thoughts and awkward moments that anyone can relate to. With a boyish charm and relaxed ability to interact with audiences, even controversial or edgy topics seem comforting and laughable to all. Chris' versatility and quick witted nature allow him to work crowds of all types. From clean rooms and theatres to the edgiest bars around, Chris is always comfortable identifying with his audience and giving a stellar performance. A Chris Johnston show is always sure to be fun, full of energy and one not to be missed.

Chris began his comedy career performing at clubs and bars in NY/NJ and Philly areas. For several years, he shared residency between Boston and the NY, becoming a regular at east coast comedy clubs along the way. Chris has been featured on popular radio shows, film, comedy festivals and has gone on to tour with national acts at clubs and colleges across the United States. He was added as a regular to the "Howard Stern-Killers of Comedy" and "Best Damn Comedy Show!" tours, featuring comedians from the "Howard Stern" and "Opie & Anthony" radio shows. Chris continues to be a requested act for clubs, colleges, and national headliners across the country.
